Then here s to the trees! May their mission on earth be better understood by all. And may that day soon come when the wealth of our nation will be measured not by the number of dollars deposited in the banks of this country, nor the assessed value of its property holdings, but solely by the number of trees per capita growing within the crowded and settled confines within which are reared the masses of our population! For it is these, and these alone, that constitute the basis of the true wealth of this country, and the interest return is usurious in the making of better citizens, better statesmen, and better patriots. FOREST SERVIC The Month in Government Forest Work. Green vs. Tests recently completed Fire-Killed at the timber-testing labTimber., TT. . oratory at the University of Washington, show the comparative values of green and fire-killed timber. In the States of Colorado, Montana, Nevada, Utah, and Wyoming, it is estimated that nearly one billion feet of dead timber is to be found in the National forests, and this has led to the study of the problem of saving this vast quantity of wood for some practical use, instead of allowing it to go to waste or furnish fuel for conflagrations. The results of the tests...
