The Christian College and Missions. 1 By Jonas O. Notestein, Wooster, O. highway. Does any careful observer doubt that, if our whole Church were as much in earnest as are one-tenth of our communicants, we should have and support from three to five times as many workers in these fields? The fault is not with our Boards. They are filling the Church with arousing facts and urgent appeals. They are handling with great economy and efficiency the force and the funds given them. Yet our Church with its inspiring history, its complete organization, its abundant wealth is hesitating in this day of wonderful opportunity. our Church. No tree can long bear the stimulation of leaf and fruit processes while its roots are left starved or half frozen. We have been urgent, and rightly so,...
