These short stories powerfully evoke Scottish landscape, history and architecture. With a keen sense of the past impacting on the present, they are gripping and often moving. The author was a winner of the WH Smith Young Writers competition in 1991, judged by then Poet Laureate Ted Hughes, and has wanted to publish a book of his own short stories ever since. Some of these stories have been previously published on The News From Moidart was previously published in issue 6 of the magazine Random Acts of Writing in 2007, We Are For The Dark won third prize in a writing competition run by the Isle of Mull-based newspaper Am Muileach in 2007, and Ask For Me Tomorrow was highly commended in the Highlands and Islands Short Story Association (HISSAC) competition in 2008.
